ARC award for The Wandering Monkey

By Doug Newhouse, 5 July 2011

Last week's London ARC 2011 conference and exhibition saw children's product supplier The Wandering Monkey win the Airline Retail Award for 'the most promising supplier to inflight retail'.

Company founder Jonathan Corbett said: "I was thrilled to be nominated for this award, but to actually win the award, voted for by buyers and suppliers in the Airline Retail business is great encouragement.

"I'm really looking forward to breaking the mould and driving the business forward in Duty Free and Travel Retail. The Children's category has great potential in our Industry and it's awards like this, that help to recognise the opportunities to be different."

The Wandering Monkey will be exhibiting next at the Cannes TFWA show in September.
